Explore using your senses. What can you taste, see, hear, smell and touch? Which do you like and dislike? Is that the same or different for everyone at home?

Could you explore some new healthy foods? Is there a fruit that you haven't tasted before?

You could look at photos of people at home when they were younger. Can you tell who they are? How have they changed?

You could plant a seed and watch for signs of it growing or go for a walk and look for things that are growing.
