Can you think of three good things that happened and 3 things that you are grateful for each day?

What are the positive qualities of the people at home?

What are the rules in your house for safe internet, gaming and social media use?

What rules do you have or could you have at home to manage the amount of screen-time?

How much personal information do you share on the internet?

RHE

The children will be learning that being online can have positive and negative consequences. They will learn that there are some activities that are unsafe online, such as sharing personal information. Children will also learn that there are age limits from some online activities. We will discuss how people online may not be who they say that they are and that there are risks associated with this.

Children will be learning about the mental and physical health consequences of too much screen time.
